Areas of Practice

- Corporate and Commercial Transactional Work
- Corporate Finance
- Initial Public Offerings
- Mergers and Acquisitions
- Joint Ventures
- Regulatory Compliance
- Commercial Business Agreements

Karen is an experienced corporate practitioner, specialising in equity capital markets, cross-border M&A and regulatory compliance for charitable institutions.

Karen started her pupillage within the equity capital markets department of one of the largest local law firms in Singapore, advising on initial public offerings (IPOs), post-listing corporate actions and regulatory & compliance matters. She subsequently expanded her practice into mergers & acquisitions work and other corporate work in both the domestic and the international market, including advising on overseas IPOs in Hong Kong, the PRC and the USA.

Karen's expertise includes mergers & acquisitions, joint ventures and corporate finance. Some of her recent notable transactions include the sale of a group of semiconductor companies for 5G wireless infrastructure systems to one of the world's largest electronics manufacturer based in Taiwan and the listing of UBoT Holdings Limited on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange.

Beyond the commercial sphere, Karen has built a niche practice acting for numerous charitable foundations and institutions, including churches and an independent Singapore based theatre production company on their corporate related matters. She advises them on corporate-related matters and assists them in navigating their ongoing compliance obligations.

She has also been an independent director of companies listed on the Singapore Stock Exchange and Hong Kong Stock Exchange.
